ReBuairtel 1/2/73 to Seattle, Denver, and Minneapolis.

The color sketch prepared of Unsub in captioned case, which is marked "B" and dated 1/2/73, is considered by Exhibits Section at this date to be the best likeness obtainable from descriptive data available. The original artist's sketch, with and without sunglasses and designated as "A" sketch, was a black and white rendering of Unsub prepared immediately following hijacking. Subsequently the color sketch, with and without sunglasses, was developed and marked as "B" sketch. Although a divergence of opinion regarding certain characteristics has appeared in descriptions given by the various witnesses, the consensus indicates that a good likeness of Unsub is shown by the artist's sketch and that the "B" sketch with the added dimension of color more accurately shows the Unsub's age and overall likeness.

In view of the numerous contacts with the witnesses who supplied the descriptive data from which the sketch was prepared and the lapse of time since they observed the hijacker, it is felt no constructive purpose can be served by further attempts at modification based on contact with these same witnesses.

Re attached Portland letter to Seattle, 3/29/73

The Seattle letter to Portland dated 3/21/73 was not sent with attached serial 4563 but it is recalled that the writer determined when covering the original lead that the previous manager was someplace in Alaska, and efforts to identify this man met with negative results.

It is felt that the only way to identify the former manager and secure his present location is through the [redacted] mentioned in Portland letter which is attached.

With no other serials in possession of the writer in this matter it is requested that the matter be reviewed and if the lead appears to have any potential that Portland be directed to contact either [redacted] the original source of the information or the [redacted]. It is felt that in a matter of this type that the [redacted] would not have to be alerted to the source of the information being [redacted].

was interviewed on April 25, 1973, and furnished essentially the same information as stated in referenced memo. [redacted] was shown the composite of D. B. COOPER and advised that the individual in question, [redacted] did not look at all similar to the composite, although the facial features were alike. [redacted] said that [redacted] had gray hair and was balding and was much slimmer than the composite. [redacted] said the only reason he contacted the FBI regarding [redacted] was due to the fact that [redacted] had several $20 bills in his possession and told him that he was D. B. COOPER. [redacted] said that he thought it was strange that he should indicate that he was D. B. COOPER and thought that this may be one of the ways he was able to elude the FBI for this period of time. [redacted] could furnish no other description of [redacted] [redacted] or add anything to the information he furnished in the referenced memorandum.

On April 26, 1973, investigation indicated that [redacted] is a fictitious address and that the address most and left a forwarding address of Woodland Motel, Room Number 12, strange acting individual who often told "tall tales" and who is frequently in trouble with law enforcement officials for drinking in traffic violations. [redacted] said that MC INNIS mentioned being arrested repeatedly by the Mercer Island Police Department. [redacted] said MC INNIS was a retired employee of the Washington Chocolate Factory and had mentioned to her on one occasion that he was also a retired pilot for Northwest Airlines. She added that MC INNIS was also on welfare with the State of Washington. She could furnish no information as to MC INNIS' present whereabouts other than the forwarding address.

On April 26, 1973, Mercer Island Police Department records number 73-993 indicates that ADRIAN CHARLES MC INNIS was arrested on March 31, 1973, by the Mercer Island Police Department for driving while intoxicated. He pled guilty on April 5, 1973, and paid a $300 fine. Mercer Island Police records indicated that MC INNIS is a white male, date of birth June 20, 1915, place of birth Minneapolis, Minnesota, 5' 10", 140 pounds, gray hair, green eyes, light complexion, medium build, Social Security Number 468-03-7028. Dear Sir:

The "D. B. Cooper" hijacking case still seems to be hanging in air --- unsolved. The money has never come into circulation; no credible report to of the "presence" of the man; ground searches have not produced any positive evidence.

Which brings me to my reason for writing. Have any underwater searches been conducted, i. e., Riffe Lake in Lewis Co., Lake Merwin or Yale Reservoir in Cowlitz Co., or Swift Reservoir in Skamania Co. Or possibly Spirit Lake in Skamania County.

If I'll an extensive search will reveal "D.B. Cooper" entangled in two foulled chutes with the "money case" (bag?) lashed to his body in one of the afore-mentioned bodies of water.

I am not a seer --- or whatever--- but a certainty of feeling that has come to you no apparent reason makes me sure this is where he will be found.

Sincerely yours,

SAC D

5/30/73 information was received from Sheriff WILLIAM WEISTER, Lewis County SO, Chehalis, Washington which caused contact with [redacted] Washington.

b6
b7C

[redacted] advised that several days ago he had sighted a parachute in the trees in the vicinity of Ryan Lake near the Goat Rock area. The chute appeared to be orange or red and white. He went to a vantage point the next day with a spotting scope and visually observed the chute which is high up in a tall tree in a very isolated area with no roads nearby. This viewing revealed that it was an orange and white chute and it appeared to have some type of box hanging from the rigging. It also was not the size which could be used by a person descending from a plane. Investigation disclosed that the Forest and Weather Services have on occasion dropped such chutes for fire and weather observations.

b6

In view of the information set out above and since the area in which the chute is located is not within a reasonable distance of the flight path of the hijacked aircraft it is felt no further investigation should be conducted in this matter.

The above is being furnished for file information in the event an inquiry concerning this incident is made of the Seattle Division.

He advised he has no flying experience whatsoever, except as a passenger on commercial airlines, noting he has flown to Florida on vacation and has to fly to the State of Maine occasionally in connection with his employment.

On November 24, 1971, to the best of his recollection, he was at work [redacted] knowing with certainty that he was not on vacation or away from his employment during that period. He noted that he might have been in Maine just prior to Thanksgiving, 1971, however, he would have returned home at least one or two days prior to the holiday. He noted his employment for any specific days could be readily verified [redacted]

However [redacted] now says he knows nothing about the matter and in fact wasn't even where he said he had been when the information re the hijacker was secured. [redacted] advised he feels that [redacted] concocted the whole story and now sees that his story could get him into trouble and has disclaimed all knowledge of such an incident as he originally described.

On June 1, 1973, BILL CLAUSNER, Sheriff of Stevenson, Washington, advised that $480 worth of $20 bills, 1950 series, were found in a home in North Bonneyville, Washington. CLAUSNER advised an elderly lady was living in the home and moved to Goldendale, Washington, to be nearer her family. The elderly lady is named Mrs. MIDLAND, according to CLAUSNER.

Subsequent to her move, an envelope was discovered in the vacant home containing the $20 bills. CLAUSNER advised all of the $20 bill serial numbers were run through NCIC, as well as compared with serial numbers on the D. B. COOPER ransom list. There was no match either in NCIC or with the D.
